

Elon University is currently accepting applications for an Assistant Director of Career Services, Love School of Business. Housed in the Porter Family Professional Development Center within the Love School of Business (LSB), the Assistant Director of Career Services will develop and implement high quality undergraduate career programs and events, including the implementation of the four-year professional development program designed for LSB majors. This position also provides group and individual career consultation and actively cultivates employment opportunities for undergraduates and MBA students. Bachelor's degree required. A master's degree is strongly preferred with a minimum of one year experience in a career services office or corporate experience, with a background in recruiting a plus. The successful candidate will work with the staff of the Student Professional Development Center to increase on-campus recruiting activities for the LSB. Limited employer relations travel. Application deadline is September 6, 2015. Apply electronically at <https://elon.peopleadmin.com/postings/3018>. Elon University is an equal employment opportunity employer committed to a diverse faculty, staff and student body and welcomes all applicants.
